This area will be filled with photos sometime Monday night. Birk was busy at the 1.5 & 4.5 mile points, and it will be great to showcase some of the action.

In the meanwhile, check www.berkshiresports.org for the complete set of photos (they usually get uploaded fairly quickly).

I really appreciate all the help today, from everyone who pitched in. I also really appreciate all of you who keep participating at these events. It makes it fun to organize, as you are a really awesome group.

As I went back onto the course to clean up the markers late this afternoon, I realized how relaxing it is to take all the ribbons and arrows down. Just out there with my dog Tippi, quiet for the most part. It took four trips around that loop to get the track set right and all the flagging up, from Thursday to this morning. Taking it down only lasted about two-hours!

I was pleased to see my little pine/hemlock-branch bridge made it through the day! That has become a tradition for this course.

One really neat thing I want to point out, is the blue blazes along the last 1.3 miles of single-track, from Moody Spring back to Hallockville Road. I painted those in the fall of 1999 with my old dog Dusty. The blazes still show up, which is a really nice reminder of my old dog.

I hope some of you noticed or learned where Moody Spring is (you passed within a few feet of it, and it was running (I drank, did you?)).

By tomorrow, I am hopeful that these notes are removed and replaced with photos of some of you. If anyone is really interested in Hawley/Dubuque, Bob Worsham loves that forest as much as anyone, and I am sure he would be glad to talk about it! Email me and I'll get you in touch with the Wusham.
